

Theodore Wratislaw was a fin de siècle poet and a less famous Decadent author than some of his contemporaries. This short collection of verse was first published in 1892.

Read by Newgatenovelist. Total running time: 00:21:18

I FOUND in flowers my love asleep
 Where scents and shadows fell most deep :
 I wonder if my love would weep
 To know I found her laid asleep.

I kissed her eyelids as she lay,
 She did not wake or turn away ;
 To her what bird or bee shall say
 I kissed her eyelids as she lay ?

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture based on PD photo. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU, and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Annise. This design is in the public domain.

Some Verses Theodore Wratislaw

Some Verses Theodore Wratislaw